

Historic Jamestown Society Presents:

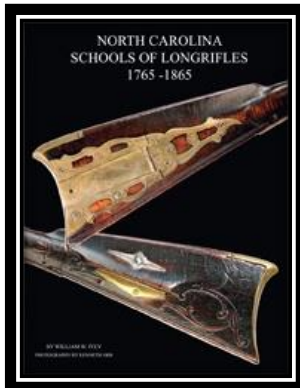

History of the North Carolina Longrifle

Tuesday, September 6, from 7 pm to 8:30 pm

Jamestown United Methodist Church
403 East Main St. Jamestown, NC
(at the rear entrance)

Admission: $5 per person

All proceeds to benefit Historic Jamestown Society, Inc.

Join us as William W. Ivey, one of our nation's foremost experts on longrifles (also known as Kentucky rifles), explores the history of this uniquely American creation and presents a selected collection of North Carolina longrifles that represent 9 major "schools" (groups with similar decorative features and characteristics), including the celebrated Jamestown school.

See firsthand why the sheer beauty and refined craftsmanship of these historically significant pieces places them among the greatest of early American decorative arts.

Please contact Shawn Rogers for more information:

Phone: (336)454-3819 Email: director@mendenhallhomeplace.com

For more information about Mr. Ivey's research, visit:

www.northcarolinalongrifles.com

Historic Jamestown Society 2016